Description

A magnificent bedroom suite with impressive brass inlay & coloured features, including exotic birds & griffins. Of the continental style, possibly French (but I know that it came from a home in Prague). The quality of this suite is just fabulous & condition is very good for its age & particularly taking account of past around the world moving experiences. Photographed outside in natural daylight with an iPad & no colour editing, so the pictures reflect this item exactly as it really is. Originally I am sure this suite resided in a truly superior residence and seeks a home of superior grace & quality. Alternatively this furniture would make an amazing display for a period drama film set. Fantastic craftsmanship in every way, wardrobes are sectional for easy transport with the best quality assembly fittings I have seen in any antique. The suite I believe to be early 20th century recreating an earlier style of fabulous wealth & comfort. The beds are made as two singles but when adjacent can be used as a king size. Limited photographs are included & we may be able to provide others on request. Please contact us for any further information you may require.
