Description

This 19thC Spanish Walnut Tavern Side Table has so much charm and history to share. Standing on turned legs that form trestle ends to the table, which are located in place by lovely iron supports. The top is attached to the legs via a dovetail housing, allowing the table to be dismantled easily by undoing the threaded bolts on the metal supports. Displaying its wear and age with pride, whilst looking all the better for it, this charming table would look good with many styles of interior décor.
