Description

For your consideration and offered with FREE UK mainland two man delivery is this English circa 1930's Art Deco large burr walnut two door round shouldered wardrobe which not only looks impressive but offers an extensive and high quality interior. The solid Mahogany interior offers all the bells and whistles you could hope for storing clothing. There are two full length hanging areas, a full length dressing mirror on one inside door. All original solid brass fittings including fully working locks, catches, hinges, door retainer and hanging poles. Running Center to the wardrobe are seven storage cubicles, the majority are open with a couple glazed with original black bakelite handles. The original makers label is above the dressing mirror, locating it to Halifax, England. The two doors to the exterior are veneered in a warm tone of burr Walnut with quarter book paging and finished with a feather walnut trim. We've taken the whole robe through our workshops, it's been fully and professionally restored and French polished. All doors work smoothly and hang correctly. Locks are also working and with a key. The whole wardrobe breaks down into two main sections, along with th...
