Description

Circa 1910-1930 - a particularly fine quality desk lamp with an adjustable, bendy arm and the original iron base. It weighs 2.4kgs. As shown in the main photograph, it measures 45cm in height, straightened up it is 65cm; the base is 15cm in diameter. The lamp has a straight lower column to ensure stability with the flexible links at the top enabling the light to be moved to any angle. It was recently rewired by the previous owner and some of our original period glass shades shown here may still be available at cost price should the buyer decide to use one with this lamp. Postage and packing within the UK mainland only is included in the price and for outside areas or abroad please contact us for a delivery quote.
