Description

A wonderful example of a beautifully made solid oak and burr walnut inlaid sideboard by the famous furniture manufacturer "Waring & Gillows" of London. This particular sideboard was produced in their Liverpool factory and was supplied new especially for the Russian Embassey in London back in 1910. The oak has been hand crafted with veneers of burr walnut laid onto the front doors to enhance the finished appearance. The build quality is heavy and substantial with the sideboard having a rich medium well glazed finish. The condition is very good generally considering this piece of furniture is 100 years of age, and still has both keys. All nicely polished without any marks evident on the top surfaces.
