Description

A classic 1920-1930's large opaque etched glass ceiling light with a copper top. It is in very good condition. It is difficult to show it as its best without fixing it to the ceiling. Please ask if you have any questions. The glass shade is approximately 35.5cm in diameter and 14cm deep, and approximately 38cm wide. The top fits flush to the ceiling using the two purpose made screws - see photo 3 -and once in position the shade goes into the copper ring, secured with the long finial - Photo 4. The copper top was once painted white and there are a few signs of paint inside of the light, but not visible when the top is in place. Postage and packing is included in the price for the UK mainland only. For outside areas or delivery abroad please contact us for a delivery quote. Collection by appointment from SW London, or the Esher area of Surrey if preferred, and we will offer a good discount.
