Description

Edwardian Chinese Chippendale stools This pair of Edwardian Chinese Chippendale stools were made circa 1910. In the desirable style of Chinese Chippendale this pair of stools are made of solid mahogany with red hand dyed hide leather upholstered seats. The process of hand dying and finishing the leather is a time-consuming process, as well as the hundreds of brass headed studs that have to be tapped in individually. A process that takes much skill and patience. These stools have chamfered square legs with fine blind fret to the front sides, the legs are joined by cross-stretchers. Completely recovered in hide leather before being hand dyed and with the antique finish. This pair of stools can be used in many places around your home. Imagine the pleasure you will have owning these wonderful stools. 48cms deep 19ins 48ins wide 19ins 53cms high 21ins All dimensions are approximate, whilst we take as much care as possible, we can be marginally out.
