Description

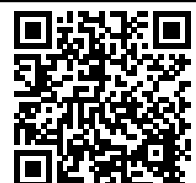

This gorgeous early Victorian antique Partners desk is crafted from beautiful pollard oak and dates from Circa 1850. The rectangular top with rounded corners features a striking olive green inset leather writing surface that has beautiful hand tooled gilt decoration. It is raised on four turned legs that terminate in the original heavy brass and ceramic castors. It is a Partners desk and as such has six drawers, three on each side. They are fitted with their original knobs, are oak lined, have hand cut dovetails and are perfectly sized for all the stationary you could possibly need, making this desk not just a symbol of refinement but a practical furnishing as well. It is finished on all sides so that it can stand freely in the middle of a room, making it extremely suitable for a large home. Condition: In excellent condition having been beautifully cleaned, polished, waxed and releathered in our workshops. Please see photos for confirmation.
