Description

A small size mahogany breakfront bookcase with astragal glazed doors. This is a great piece for a small room or a cottage-style property, these smaller than usual bookcases are hard to find these days. There are 4 doors to the top section and 3 to the base one of which is glazed flanked by paneled doors. The center base door has a drawer above as do the smaller paneled doors. Also to the base on either side of the center door are sabre leg-shaped supports. The pediment has blind fretwork. Nice condition just the usual odd blemishes, it has its keys for all the doors. It stands 75 inches tall, 64 inches wide, and 18 inches deep.
