Description

This nice clean little Edwardian Inlaid Mahogany occasional table is a highly versatile example. Fantastic to take to Goodwood revival perhaps or even just afternoon tea on the lawn on a sunny summer day. It looks great and with the ability to open the top to give an excellent server space at 55cms by 78 it is perfect for the above suggestions. However, if they are not your cup of tea so to speak, it makes a great side table or lamp table but with the ability to open as already mentioned. The inlays in the mahogany certainly help to make this a lovely little table and at such a great price too.
