Description

Pair of early 19th century solid cherrywood French provincial server console tables with two drawers and shaped frieze and legs, circa 1800. The two servers could work for a number of uses from console tables, hall tables, sofa tables and are of a generous size so they will hold a large central lamp as shown or perhaps a pair of smaller lamps on each table and are both a wonderful warm cherry tone with a mellow beeswax finish. The tops of the tables are two plank tops with a cleated board to the ends and have aged gracefully with some lovely age and use marks. Priced as the pair and the lamps are just examples, but are available separately. Any queries, please do get in touch
