Item Reference: SA893716

Date of manufacture: Victorian

Description

A pair of unusual 19th century wrought iron garden seats or benches, with ornate scrolling armrests and ergonomically curved back and seats for each place. With scrolling legs to the middle and ends and braces between the legs for plenty of support. It is rare to find these seats with the individual armrests and shaping to the seats. Some wear to the white paintwork which would benefit from touching up. Size - 8ft 1in/97in (246cm) long Ref: 0665 Please contact us with a postcode for delivery costs.
