Description

This set of six silver Guilloche enamelled buttons are In superb condition. I apologise for the white flecks on the pictures... they are NOT chips!!! It's my poor photography skills... it's the light bouncing off the buttons. The buttons are InThe original red leather vending box. Each button is clearly hall marked to the reverse. The blue enamel is as vivid as the day they were made. They were manufactured in Birmingham, United Kingdom. The manufacturer was Lawrence Emanuel. The year of manufacture 1908 The original vending box identifies the buttons sold by : Alfred Hobcraft , Jeweller of Cheapside, London. The button box is in good condition and the clasp still works. Each button approx 24mm in diameter. A rarity to find a full set of undamaged antique enamelled buttons in the original vending box . International shipping available. Please contact me with any further questions. These can be viewed by appointment in the shop. Uk mainland, insured and tracked shipping free
