Description

This is a very nice quality late 18th century mahogany Georgian splat back armchair. English in origin and looks to be original all over with a great patina. The seat cushion is newly upholstered (not by us but done well) in an attractive floral fabric. The only fault I have been able to spot is an old splice to the front right leg but structurally sound and hardly noticeable. The chair is a very large size with generous proportions and would make a great desk chair. Height 100cm Width 70cm Depth 62cm Depth of seat 46cm Height of seat 50cm Price includes UK mainland delivery
