Description

Impressive pair of brass column and cut glass dome table lamps in the style of an oil lamp, circa 1930 and in good condition, fully re wired. The proportions of this pair will lend themselves to being used on a large sideboard or console table, but also with their height they can't work really well as bedside table lamps. They have aged well so the brass is a lovely mellow finish and has not been over polished, retaining their age. Fully re wired and pat tested, ready to use. I have shown them with an example pair of 16" drum shades as examples only, but the price shown does include FREE mainland UK delivery. Measuring: 34 inches or 86.5 cm to the top of the example shades 24 1/2 inches or 62 cm to the bulb holder 7 1/2 inches or 19 cm width and depth of base
