Description

An excellent set of ten 19th century glasses, each finely engraved with sporting scenes which include a dog chasing a hare, pheasants in different poses and a bird of prey. There is a good punt mark on each stem from hand blowing and each glass differs from the others very slightly, which rather adds to their charm. Good size glasses in very good condition with no chips. We can deliver free of charge in UK mainland and can calculate the cost for international delivery. Payment by bank transfer or PayPal.
