Description

This Aneroid Barometer has a pleasing curved porcelain dial that dips down to expose the lacquered brass movement in the centre of the case. The case is of polished oak and mahogany with a polished brass bezel, blued steel indicator hand and brass setting hand. The dial is behind extremely thick centre drilled glass, this is a substantial high quality barometer made between 1890 and 1910. The movement has been overhauled and comes with our 2 year guarantee.
