Description

This is a really elegant heavy brass floor lamp, dating from the 1930's, but fitting perfectly into any style of home, whether traditional or modern. The lamp comprises of a waisted brass fluted column and circular base, resplendent with a sunburst design of long slender leaves. I have had the whole lamp fully cleaned and re-wired by an antique lighting specialist, and fitted with a corded cable. The lamp stands 126cm from the floor to the light fitting, so bulbs or shades would of course be on top of this. The base is 30cm in diameter, and the column is 4.5cm wide. The shade can come with it for free if you'd like it, but can be delivered without if it's not to your taste or colour scheme! It's in lovely condition as I hope the photographs illustrate, but it does of course have the gentle surface wear you would expect from an item of this age - please study the photos to see and if I can provide any further information or images, don't hesitate to get in touch. Due to the size of the lamp it would best be collected or delivered in person, so I can help arrange the best way to get it to you - anything is possible!
