Description

Stunning mahogany tea table from the Victorian era. The beautifully shaped top rotates through a quarter turn to reveal a hidden storage recess and folds over to a beautiful solid mahogany serpentine top with amazing graining. It's frieze matches the shape of the top and has a carved decoration to the bottom. Supported by a central turned carved column is carved with quadruple cabriole legs ending with a scroll toe terminating on castors. There are the odd age-related marks however this only lends to the charm of this wonderfully elegant card table. A stunning piece of antique furniture both attractive and practical, a perfect addition to any home. Internal Reference: SAI2678
