Description

A pair of French mid 19th century mahogany candlesticks in the Louis XVI neoclassical style, each with a urn shaped scone with wavy top and detachable brass nozzle, over a tapering fluted shaft with beaded top and bottom and with a twisting laurel vine en contrepartie, on a domed circular foot carved with stiff stylised leaves. French circa 1870. Condition: Overall very good, both candlesticks are in good condition with the exception of a small piece of the scone missing from one, otherwise they have a very pleasing appearance and colour.
