Description

A wonderful Antique English Electroplated double bottle stand, rarely seen and of course what makes this particularly special is it being made by the famous Hukin & Heath. The bottles are kept in place with the two silver collars which wrap around the bottle necks and when the handle is pushed down the lock snaps shut. The lock comes with a working tasselled key to release the lock, the central column pops up allowing the bottle to be slid out, the top section also swivels while unlocked to aide in this. The underside is marked with the H & H mark within two circles together with the pattern number 653 and "Patent Applied For". Excellent condition measuring 11 1/2" tall to top of handle and each holder with a diameter of 3 3/4". Item ID: 32562 ----- FREE Worldwide Registered Airmail Directly From London, England
