Description

This unusual cast stand is solid and heavy, we were advised it was for a lamp but that is not certain. It could be a high table or if you have spoilt wild life in your garden a most impressive bird table. It is 108cms tall and has the ability to be screwed down if required, but it does have a solid and heavy base anyway. It will not be blowing over we suspect. It has good detail and if you have a use for it then it is pretty keenly priced at £145. Call us to discuss or pop in to take away. We suspect it is early 1900s. In the right setting its a little gem.
