Description

Description: This is a fine quality antique William IV chiffonier constructed from stunning figured mahogany, with two-doors, circa 1835 - 1840, in excellent original condition. Supporting a raised mirror-back with shelf, decorated with a foliate scroll relief carved pediment. The shelf is supported by finely carved corbel supports. The base comprises a recessed long frieze drawer, which is mahogany lined, and a pair of arched pane cupboard doors below. The panels doors are flanked by exquisite pilaster columns. The right-hand door retains the original brass working lever lock and key, along with the original brass door catches on the left-hand door. Inside, there is a central shelf. The William IV chiffonier stands on a lovely protruding breakfront moulded plinth, with the back of the chiffonier retaining its original pine backboards, terminated on the original elegant turned bun feet. The William IV chiffonier would have most likely been used in a dining room to store the family's best crockery and cutlery. This William IV chiffonier boasts a high standard of design and construction; it is an example of the best quality William IV cabinets available today. ...
