Description

This is just beautiful and such a rare survivor. The folding fruit knife, fork and spoon are in their original leather case. The knife and fork have mother of pearl front and back, beautiful bright cut to the silver. The small spoon is marked for Richard Crossley, London 1802. Each piece carries the name Anna Maria, clearly been together all its life. The knife and fork open well, no "floppy" blades. There is one small crack across the MOP on the fork, but the rest is in the most fantastic condition, hardly used. Case 10.5 cm long, width 4 cm, depth 2 cm L knife and fork folded 10 cm open 18.5 cm W 1.5 cm L spoon 9 cm
