Description

Fine quality early Victorian Scottish mahogany sutherland table by JOHN TAYLOR of EDINBURGH. The table folds away very narrow when not in use but when fully up would seat 6 easily. The table is stamped with the makers mark on the top of one of the legs. When fully open the table top is oval in shape with a very nice thumb moulded edge. The table has all of its original brass castors which are also stamped with the makers name of R LANGE BEAR & Co. BIRMINGHAM. The timber used is very good and as such the table is pretty heavy even though it is quite small. No issues. The table is a very nice mellow mahogany colour with waxed finish. SIZE; 39" wide by only 6 1/2" deep (When closed) by 29" high. When open it is 50" by 39". CIRCA; 1850 - 1870
