Description

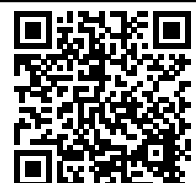

A very nice PAIR of gilt framed maritime commercial coastal sailing boat scenes by H. Claessens oil on canvas. Each is beautifully painted, both feature mid-sized commercial sailing boats at anchor in calm waters. One is depicted just off a large harbour wall with tallships in the background and a small lighthouse on the end of the jetty. The boat is being approached by a small rowing vessel with attendant skipper. The other depicts, possibly the same boat, further out from harbour, although still at anchor. There is a larger lighthouse on the coastline behind and rowing boat with attendant crew. H. Claessens - Little is known of this artist, but the name Claessens is typically Belgian. The coastline and harbour could be that of Esilor, a favoured Belgian location for marine artists. Dimensions: Both 16 x 24 inches (40.5 x 61cm). Signed (bottom right corner) and dated 1894
