Description

This Set of 8 Edwardian mahogany dining chairs were made circa 1900 Made in a striking style with the lattice backs, waisted shaped seats covered in the original tan hide leather. Each seat has been secured with fine brass capped studs, that only secure the leather but also add another dimension to how attractive they are. The chairs have fluted legs to the front and rear. These chairs were probably originally used in a liner's saloon. We purchased this set of Edwardian chairs near to Southampton, the home to the world's liners in the heyday of the Liners. Much of the liners redundant furniture was sold locally and so it is not unusual to source items off the great liners in this area. (Nowadays, it is not quite so easy to find as over the years the items have gone to market and now spread around the globe) Imagine these chairs in your home and the pleasure of ownership will give you. 86.5cms high 34ins 46cms wide 18ins 42cms deep 16 1/2ins 45cms seat height 17 1/2ins All dimensions are approximate, whilst we take as much care as possible, we can be marginally out.
