Description

Technical Description A fine example of a 19th-century Nailsea glass flask with pink and white pulled decoration. A rough pontil completes the piece with its original cork stopper. These flasks are popular and we often sell fine examples...however, this particular vibrant colour combination is rare. Date & Origin England, c1830. Period of Victoria. Condition Excellent, no chips cracks or restoration. A little rough around part of the rim which happened during manufacturing. Dimensions Height: 19.5cm (not including stopper) Width: 11cm Depth: 5.1cm. Historical Relevance Hand-blown around the time Nathaniel Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter was published on the 16th of March 1850. Share Via Delivery Information Complemented Items Recently Viewed
