Description

This small Victorian bracket mirror is elaborately carved with cherubs and a variety of flowers including roses, forget me nots and lilies, which in the Victorian era were symbols of love and romance. The mirror plate, which is original, is finely engraved with floral swags and ribbons. This beautifully shaped mirror was perhaps given as a token of love. The mirror has the original back board and is in untouched country house condition, there are some misses to the gilding but these do not detract from the charm of this typically Victorian mirror. c. 1850 Height: 22" 56 cm Width: 13.5" 34.5 cm Depth: 4.5" 11.5 cm
