Description

A large and attractive 18th century antique oak gateleg table. The antique oak gateleg table has a rectangular shaped top with drop leaves to either side, which when extended create an oval shaped surface top. The gateleg table is raised on four turned legs, with two hinged legs. A particularly good quality table with good colour throughout. Item Ref; M-3328 . DIMENSIONS: Height – 76cm / Width – 123cm / Depth (extended) – 134cm / Depth (closed) - 45.5cm . CONDITION REPORT: In good antique condition throughout with some signs of age. There is surface wear in places including age-related marks, scratches and minor dents throughout the item including the surface and legs. Minor stains are present but add to its charm, there are also patch repairs present around the table (pictured) but this does not affect the overall integrity of the item whatsoever . There is evidence of historical woodworm, however this is now long gone and has been fully treated as a precaution. The antique oak gateleg table remains structurally solid and sound, with the hinged leg mechanism working well. Overall, a good example.
