Description

James Eyre (b.1802 fl.1837): A large and fine quality oil painting on canvas in a good original gilded frame. It depicts a lakeland scene with travelling figures in the foreground on horseback, possibly on their way to market. With an extensive lakeland scene and mountains in the background. Signed to the lower left and dated 1833 (5?). There is a further label verso with faded text. Dimensions: width: 40 inches x height: 30 inches (102 x 76cm) including frame. James Eyre (born 1802) was a Derbyshire based landscape painter. He exhibited at the British Institute in London, where he also was a member of Suffolk Street (Society of British Artists). Condition: There is some light cracking to the surface which I have tried to show in several of the photographs. The frame is in good condition. Dated: 1833 (1835?)
