Description

Edwardian inlaid mahogany pedestal desk This Edwardian inlaid mahogany pedestal desk was made circa 1900. Interestingly, it has a Druce & co brass plate inside the drawer showing it was purchased from their second-hand department. Druce & co were known for high end furniture and so this was to a quality that they were happy to put their name to. Obviously, it would only have been only 10 years old when this was resold. The desk consists of 3 drawers along the top and a further 3 graduated drawers in each pedestal. A proper antique desk will be made in 3 parts, this enables easy transportation in or around your home or office. All the satinwood crossbanded drawers are finely inlaid, with swags and flowers. The desk is finished all round so this can be used away from a wall if need be. The antique red inset leather writing surface is gilt tooled and has a satinwood banding running around the border. It stands on shaped splay legs with the original brass capped castors. Imagine the pleasure of ownership this fabulous desk will bring you, it is the best domestic size as it provides fantastic workspace without being too big. 136cms wide 53 1/2ins 74cms deep 29ins 78cms high 3...
