Description

A very chic pair of large early 19th Century walnut marble top console tables. Northern Italian circa 1825. Of grande proportions and a sleek design rarely seen of Northern Italian origin. The rectangular figured white marble tops above a cushion moulded frieze with hidden drawer held by gadrooned serpentine front supports, over Greek key incised brackets, united by arc en arbalette shaped platforms on semi-circular feet. Very smart and imposing pair of consoles of unusual design showing the strong Greek influences of the period. Will work in both a contemporary and traditional setting. Width: 47 1/4 inches - 120cm Height: 36 1/2 inches - 93cm Depth: 24 inches - 61cm
