Description

An attractive early 19th century antique oak pot board dresser. The antique oak dresser has a boarded rack back top, with two fitted shelves, retaining its original iron hanging hooks. The early 19th century antique oak dresser has a pot board base with three fitted drawers, each with brass drop handles. The under tier shelf or pot board is raised on a plinth base. The antique oak dresser has a stunning colour and grain throughout. Comes apart in two sections for ease of transport. Item Ref; M-4155 . DIMENSIONS: Height – 185cm / Surface Height - 78cm / Width – 174cm / Depth – 37cm . CONDITION REPORT: In good antique condition throughout with some signs of age. There is surface wear in places including age-related marks, scratches and stains throughout the dresser including the surface top, shelves and drawer fronts (pictured). There are a few deep scratches and wearing down of the wood on the shelves (pictured) but this is to be expected with an item of this age and doesn't affect the overall integrity of the product. The pot board also has a few scratches, stains and splits (pictured). The antique oak dresser remains structurally solid and sound, with the drawers running smoothly.
