Description

A Stunning walnut Chippendale style decorative settee with two impressive side chairs. This fantastic set was possibly made in South America during the 1800s by an extremely good cabinet maker and wood carver who used the style created by Thomas Chippendale. The craftsman has unusually used walnut to make these wonderful pieces. Obviously over the years and due to the elegant design the settee although in good order is more for decoration rather than comfort but the impressive carver chairs are comfortable. The settee dimensions are Width 186cm x Height 97 cm x Depth 58 cm and the chairs measure the same but are 69 cm wide.
