Description

Extremely stylish piece of jewellery from the house of Jakob Bengel, dating to the 1930's and so advanced for its time in its design that one could be forgiven for not recognising it as a period piece. One of the leading manufacturers of Art Deco jewellery, the company produced in the 1920's and 1930's very innovative and individual pieces of the time, aesthetically characterised by their unique designs and modernist slant. This necklace is quite weighty and is segmented with engine turned pieces known as brickwork design and more commonly seen in earrings. Linked with in chromed segments of bright red enamel accents. Condition is excellent with little to no signs of its true age. This piece could be old/new stock that's not been worn or used such is the condition, a rare find indeed. Ideal for day or evening wear for the fashion savvy lady of today. Size is for small to medium sized wrist overall length 40 cm. All of our Jewellery and watches are sent out first class in a complimentary gift/presentation box.
