Description

Here is a good quality antique English Victorian nursing chair, of good proportions, constructed of mahogany, circa 1860, upholstered in oyster velvet material, which would benefit from being re-upholstered. The Victorian nursing chair is upholstered with a deep buttoned shaped back and sprung seat, finished with matching braiding, within a fine quality mahogany scroll shaped frame. The Victorian nursing chair sits on elegant fluted tapering mahogany legs to the front, with spayed legs to the rear. All four legs terminate on the original brass castors. The Victorian nursing chair would benefit from being re-upholstered, as the fabric is tired, faded, with marks in places; therefore, it is being sold for re-upholstery. Dimensions: External Height = 90cm / 35½" / 2ft 11½" External Width = 65cm / 25½" / 2ft 1½" External Depth = 73cm / 28¾" / 2ft 4¾" Seat Height = 39cm / 15?" / 1ft 3?"
