Item Reference: SA922169

Date of manufacture: 1900

Description

This is a good quality late Victorian hanging light with attractive cut glass tear drop shaped shade. This features its original decorative "flying saucer" brass collar to the cable which were sometimes added for aesthetic purposes. The lamp has been rewired with modern braided cable and PAT tested ready for use. It takes a standard bayonet fitting bulb and measures 65 cms in length overall but could be adjusted on the cable length for height as the saucer is moveable up or down the cable. The shade measures 18 cms by 11 cms in diameter. UK insured delivery is £15.
