Description

Fabulous Edwardian mahogany mirror back display cabinet in excellent condition with only minor historical marks in line with age and use. It separates into two sections which makes it easy to transport to and around the home. The fret work and carving to the top section are outstanding and show true quality and craftsmanship. It's beautifully shaped bevel edged mirrors will create the impression of a more spacious, brighter room. The base has three glazed doors with more of that beautiful fret work on the front and stands on four beautifully carved cabriole legs. The cabinet doors do have a key so are lockable. The two glass shelves on either side are not adjustable but can be removed. The mahogany is a wonderful rich chocolate colour with fantastic patina. This is a stunning piece of furniture a perfect addition to any room.
