Description

Sir Robert Peel, 2nd Baronet, FRS (1788 – 1850) was a British Conservative statesman and one of the founders of the modern Conservative Party, who served twice as Prime Minister of the United Kingdom (1834–1835 and 1841–1846) simultaneously serving as Chancellor of the Exchequer (1834–1835) and twice as Home Secretary (1822–1827 and 1828–1830). He is regarded as the father of modern English policing, owing to his founding of the Metropolitan Police Service. The Speeches of the late Right Honourable Sir Robert Peel, Bart., delivered in the House of Commons complete in 4 volumes with volume I covers the period 1810–1829, II 1829–1834, III 1835–1842 and IV 1842–1850. Bound in polished half calf over marbled boards with gilt decorated title labels and spines with 5 raised bands forming 6 compartments. The front paste down bears the label for Blackwell's booksellers of Oxford and the book plate of Sir James M Hogg with his family crest and Latin Motto Dat Gloria Vires which translates to Glory gives Strength. The bookplate also states that these books occupied shelf 6 of case E. Condition – internally some age toning and minor foxing to the first and last few pages otherwise...
