Description

An elegant Louis XV period Canapé à Oreilles, distinguished by its serpentine form and intricate carved detailing. The frame is adorned with floral and acanthus motifs, retaining its original verde paint. The seat rails feature central scallop shell carvings, complemented by cabriole legs with foliate accents that terminate in delicate foliate caps. This exceptional piece is upholstered in a delectable period quilted fabric, embellished with charming floral decorations. It includes three feather-filled seat cushions housed within a single removable cover, offering both comfort and versatility. With provenance from Christie's Paris, this canapé embodies the sophistication and artistry of 18th-century French design. Height - 100 cm Width - 193 cm Depth - 105 cm Seat Height - 53 cm
