Description

Wonderful Mahogany Bookcase Cabinet - Circa 1860 A nice example of a Bookcase over Cabinet from the mid-Victorian period. This stylish and very practical piece consists of a twin door cabinet, with centre shelf, below an impressive two door bookcase/display shelf section. The cabinet shelf is fixed. For purposes of internal measurements for the lower cabinet section: Max height 27cm (i.e. height above shelf) Max depth 26cm. The cabinet section also benefits from a drawer which has been lined with baize. The shelves in the upper section are removable and adjustable so any number can be used, removed, or indeed added. In total there is 100cm of space vertically and the largest depth item that can be accommodated is 23.5cm. The colour of the mahogany is correct and reveals the wood well. The whole sits upon a continuous plinth and is topped by a fitting crown moulding to the upper. A wonderful piece of furniture that is fully functional but under close inspection does show the expected signs of use (knocks, abrasions, replaced locks etc).
