Description

For your consideration is this Impressive 1930's modernist mantle mirror clock, no makers name and sourced in England. This clock is quite large, see dimensions and so has a real impact not just by how attractive it is but also by its size. In lovely condition, the chrome work is very good, bright & crisp showing just some mild tarnishing in areas on the columns. The mirror is free from chips, grazes, foxing or silver loss. Ideal for a statement piece for areas like mantle and desk or sideboards. This is a eight day wind up clock and is in good working order having been professionally serviced. Anyone who admires modernist pieces from the 1930's and also collects clocks will know how hard these are to source, very seldom do they come onto the market and often when they do they are with some sort of damage. This timepiece definitely won't disappoint. FREE UK mainland delivery
