Description

An unusual and rather interesting pair of CHINESE PAINTINGS ~ perhaps on glass, but more likely on mica ~ which depict elegant young ladies in somewhat mythical rural settings. The ladies are all dressed in very fine clothes and headgear, featuring decoration which is highlighted in gold and silver. Apparently unsigned...these have not been removed from their original moulded and gilded frames. 13 x 11ins including the frames which are in excellent condition. circa 1900 (?) but perhaps earlier.  Both have Art Gallery labels to the reverse for "Leggatt Brothers of Cheapside, London EC". Leggatt Brothers were Fine Art Dealers established in 1820 by the sons of Henry Leggatt (1817-1864). They finally (and sadly) closed in 1992 after 172 years of trading.
