Description

Victorian Music Cabinet - 1895 Charming late Victorian twin door music cabinet in mahogany with hidden castors. This example benefits from a mirrored back panel and an attractive rear inlaid upstand to the top. The cabinet has twin flap down doors. The upper compartment lies behind a glazed show door and reveals velvet covered shelving with lovely signage. The lower panelled door is complete with excellent marquetry inlay; the lower door pulls forward to reveal vertical storage in triple bays. The cabinet retains original brass fittings. Overall a super piece of furniture which looks attractive and functions nicely. The piece is clean and well presented although there are the expected signs of use around the feet molding. A very versatile size and adaptable to suit many non-musical storage or display requirements.
