Description

Made by Amberg of America, this 19th Century mahogany filing cabinet has a bank of 30 drawers, each with their original metal clips and a tambour front. The cabinet has panelled sides and stands on a plinth base. The cabinet is in lovely original condition, there is a small length of beading missing from one side, this is shown in the photographs and is not detrimental to the overall appearance of this authentic item of early office furniture. The drawers all slide well as does the rolling tambour front. c.1890 Width: 46" (117cm) Depth: 17.25" (44cm) Height: 50.75" (129cm)
