Description

A very nice quality music box from the late 19C. The mahogany and ebonised case is beautifully polished with an inlaid cartouche and barbers pole stringing. A bonus of this box is that it has the addition of 3 bells which play in complementary harmony to the barrel playing tunes. As I am not a musician I do not know the several tunes it plays but doubtless these would soon be identified by someone who knows their music. All of the tunes play very crisply with a nice tone and completely in tune. A very nice quality box.
