Description

A wonderful tribal Antique Shirvan rug in good original condition, showing the intact fringes and lovely natural dyes. Woven with a rare ivory background colour, the vibrant pale blues and yellows with reds bring a lot of life to this antique caucasian rug. We love the simple all over geometric design with lattice pattern. Classic caucasian rug border and wonderful dyes. As this is a tribal Caucasian rug dating from around 1910, it is not perfectly symmetrical or straight, as it was woven on a loom in the ground. The weaver would often travel and take the loom up and move, hence these rugs are never perfect in shape or size. In honest original condition, and full of charm and character.
