Description

Swivel desk chairs with heart-shaped decorative designs on their backs always draw favourable attention, especially when they are comfortable, have an appealing warm colour and are in good original condition, like this Late 19th Century oak example. The white porcelain castors appear to be original and are in excellent condition, and the caned seat, which more than likely has been replaced in the last 50 years, is also in very good order. The price includes a simple leather buttoned squab cushion (the colour to be chosen by the buyer). This attractive chair has been sensitively restored and is now ready for another 140 years of use. The measurement from floor to seat is 44.5 cm (without cushion).
