

SA936002

William IV Mahogany Dining Table , Thomas Treherne 1835-1842

Price

GBP 3,500

| USD $4,727 | EUR 4,094

Item Reference: SA936002Date of manufacture: 19th Century

Description

An impressive William IV figured mahogany extending dining table dating to the 1830s . This table comes with provenance and is stamped with the makers details . The table was originally built & retailed by cabinet maker & upholsterer Thomas Traherne of 39 Oxford St, London . It's extremely rare to be able to attribute a piece of furniture of this period to a specific cabinet maker . The table is of exceptional quality , made from solid mahogany throughout . moulded edge, composed of two end sections, extending to take two leaves and standing on four bold William IV period legs , raised on original large brass cup castors. pull out mechanism secured by brass catches , In wonderful condition throughout. Max Dimensions: 280.5 cm length x 113.5cm wide x 73cm high (fully extended) Total dimensions of the table without the extension leaves 141 cm L x 113.5 cm W x 73 cm H Each of the two extension leaves measure 70 cm length and 113.5 in width A set of six William IV Irish mahogany dining chairs with black leather drop in seats (as seen in photos) available separately on request. Treherne, Thomas (1835-1842) Treherne, Thomas 39 Oxford St, London , cabinet m...

Seller Details

School House Antiques

Hertfordshire United Kingdom

Tel: 07498 776 944

International Tel: +44 7498 776 944